6 On or about January 19, 2012, Corrie Bruun came under defendants' care for bariatric
7 surgery. Corrie Bruun remained under defendants' care continuously from January 19, 2012, until 8 her death on January 24, 2012.

9 4.

10 Defendants were negligent in one or more of the following respects:

- 11 (a) In attempting to anesthetize Corrie Bruun for surgery when the surgery was not 12 indicated;
- 13 (b) In attempting to anesthetize Corrie Bruun when it was not safe to do so;
- 14 (c) In attempting to perform a rapid sequence induction and intubation upon Corrie
15 Bruun when it was not safe to do so and that procedure was not indicated;
- 16 (d) In allowing non-physician nurse anesthetists to attempt to anesthetize Corrie Bruun
17 when Corrie Bruun was at high risk of fatal aspiration;
- 18 (e) In allowing non-physician nurse anesthetists to attempt to anesthetize Corrie Bruun 19 when the nurses did not have adequate education and training to administer the 20 anesthesia properly and safely;
- 21 (f) In allowing non-physician nurse anesthetists to attempt to anesthetize patients at high 22 risk of fatal aspiration;
- 23 (g) In failing to provide adequate education and training to defendants' nurse anesthetists 24 in proper and safe administration of anesthesia; and
- 25 (h) In failing to implement and require physician and nursing compliance with adequate 26 policies and procedures for proper and safe administration of anesthesia.

5.

Defendants did not obtain Corrie Bruun's informed consent to their treatment in that defendants did not explain to Corrie Bruun the procedures, alternatives and risks of the surgery and anesthesia which defendants undertook on January 22, 2012.

As a result of defendants' negligence and their failure to obtain Corrie Bruun's informed consent, as defendants attempted to anesthetize Corrie Bruun on or about January 22, 2012, she suffered aspiration of gastric contents, resulting in respiratory distress, infection, shock, multi-organ failure, conscious and prolonged pain and suffering, coma and cardiac arrest, resulting further in Corrie Bruun's death on January 24, 2012, to plaintiff's non-economic damage in the sum of $5,000,000.

7.

As a further result of defendants' negligence and failure to obtain Corrie Bruun's informed consent, plaintiff incurred medical, hospital and funeral expenses and has suffered loss of income, future earnings, future earning capacity, support, household services and other benefits, to plaintiff's economic damage in the sum of $2,000,000.

8.

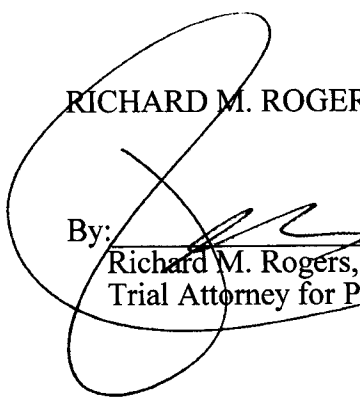

Plaintiff gives notice to defendants that plaintiff intends to amend this Complaint to add a claim for punitive damages.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays for judgment against defendants and each of them as follows:

- 1. For non-economic damages in the sum of $5,000,000;
- 2. For economic damages in the sum of $2,000,000; and,
- 3. For plaintiff's costs and disbursements.

DATED: April 25, 2013.
